1. Chlorophyll a (Chl a) and Chlorophyll b (Chl b) are the two main photosynthetic pigments in green plants. They are responsible for capturing light energy and converting it into chemical energy through the process of photosynthesis. Chl a is the primary pigment, while Chl b acts as an accessory pigment, transferring energy to Chl a.

This is a black and white aerial photograph showing a coastal area. A road runs diagonally across the frame, with a building visible on the right side. The image is grainy and has a high-contrast, almost binary appearance.
